It's 1870, California, and in this series love flourishes in the simple town of Goldrush when three fraught sisters flee New York, desperate to start new lives.

Amelia Archer is almost twenty - a romantic artist and DREAMER by nature...
As a matter of fact, she's imagined her wedding day for as long as she can remember.

When she agrees to her sister's Mail Order Bride scheme to save them from the clutches of despicable Lex Baxter, life just can't get better. Amelia is forced to abandon the comforts of New York as she flees to the small town of Goldrush, California, to marry the rancher she's been writing.

Everything had worked out perfectly well...
...well... until reality struck...

What will happen when Amelia comes crashing down to earth on a ranch which is more rustic than she expected and nowhere near as romantic as she imagined?

Dashing Jack Blair loves the ranch but hates ranching. He fights inside himself to do what's expected of him and follow his dreams under constant pressure from demanding parents. He's insecure about his future and maybe a bride can help give him hope for the future and renewed determination for raising his cattle.

Will he choose his own bride for love and not for her ability to further the family empire?
Can the idealistic Amelia get her head out of the clouds long enough to stave off the insecurities of her rancher?

... "A story of hope, fear, romance and true love." ...

This is a sweet and CLEAN WESTERN ROMANCE short story.

Each installment is designed to be read in around two hours, so they're perfect for when you're waiting at appointments or have a few extra minutes to spare.

Each short story can be read as a stand alone but if you wish to read about the story of Adeline and Averill in order the first two books are available for just $0.99 or FREE on Kindle Unlimited.
